A Rotterdam dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph company reports that the damage done at Karlsruhe by the air raid of the French squadron of aeroplanes was much greater than the papers were allowed to state. "Two hundred persons were killed," says the correspondent. "Fifty bombs were dropped, one of them also destroying one of the ducal palaces used as headquarters by the Karlsruhe commandant. Others destroyed a number of factories engaged in manufacturing shells. A great panic was caused and the victims will be buried secretly at night."

Eli Head, twenty-five years old, a negro chauffeur, was taken to the Dawson, Ky., jail Tuesday night and whipped by masked men. Head says there were about twelve men in the crowd. The negro is employed by William Lynch, a banker, and it is alleged that he is reckless in driving the car.

Julius Babey, who shot and instantly killed his young wife, Agnes Babey, at their home in Louisville, April 23, was found guilty of murder in the criminal court. The jury after deliberating thirty-eight minutes, fixed his punishment at death. The defendant pleaded insanity. Babey is 24 years old.

Out of courtesy to Senator Ollie M. James, the president has allowed him to name the postmaster at his home town, Marion, Ky. The president has appointed as postmaster of Marion, Jesse Olive, who was recommended by Senator James.

The Gravois Bank of St. Louis county, Gravois and Seibert avenue, was robbed of $5,000 by two men, who tied the cashier, Harry J. Hehme, and his assistant, Oscar C. Creelius, back to back and placed them in the vault.

A further cut of from 10 to 20 cents in the prices of flour was made in New York this week. Good spring patents were quoted at $6.50 a barrel, that figure being $1.50 under the high mark of the season.

Scenes From the Millennium.

An elevated station. Train stops to take on usual crowd. Conductor speaks: "Take your time, ladies and gentlemen; there is no hurry, I assure you. If you will allow me, I shall be most happy to find seats for all of you. . . . Take the dog right in, sir, certainly. It has as much right to a place in the car as a human being. . . . Let me hold your baby, madam, while you look after the other children. I have four seats for you right up in front, where it is cool. . . . If you will wait just a second, sir, I will come right back to help you with your baggage. Here is a dollar bill I think you must have dropped, sir. Don't thank me, sir; it is no more than my duty, and I am happy to restore it to you. . . . And now, if you are all settled and comfortable, I will start the train with your permission."—Town Topics.

Just Like a Boy.

The teacher was having an interesting half hour with the children, asking them questions, anyone having the privilege to answer. It was a great time to show off. The teacher asked about various things, and one question was about locusts. Several hands were raised, and finally one boy was selected to speak. "A locust is a bug that gives people tuberculosis," was his answer.

Weather Man.

There is no "thoroughly reliable weather man." The government "forecasts" are fairly safe for a certain number of hours, but as for the predictions that include the entire year, or any considerable part of it, they are not worth the paper they are printed on. They may be all right, they may be all wrong. Nobody knows which.

KEEP FLIES FROM ANIMALS

Tar Often Can Be Used to Advantage in Protecting Sore Places From Irritating Insects.

(By G. H. GLOVER, Colorado Experiment Station.)

There is probably nothing that will keep flies away from live stock to the extent that they will not be more or less irritated by them.

Most of the coal tar products used for "dips" to kill external parasites are useful when used over the body, well diluted, and applied from a spray pump. Oil of tar or pine tar can often be used to advantage in protecting places that have become sore from the irritation of flies.

The following mixture has usually given as much satisfaction as any other: Synthetic oil of sassafras, four ounces; karo or neat's-foot oil, two pints, and crude petroleum enough to make one gallon. This will cost about $1 a gallon.

This mixture should not be expensive and will not need to be applied as often as the other: Fish oil, 100 parts; oil of tar, 50 parts, and crude carbolic acid, 1 part.

The best way to "swat the fly" is before he is born. Allowing piles of manure to accumulate in the stables and yards for flies to breed in and then applying some kind of "dope" to keep flies away from the animals is inconsistent, to say the least.

MAKE PROFIT WITH FEEDERS

Animal Should Have Beef Characteristics, a Wide, Strong Back, and Large Heart Girth.

(By JOHN L. TORMEY, Wisconsin Experiment Station.)

Steers, if they are to make profitable gains in the feed lot, must have beef characteristics, a wide, strong back and a large heart girth.

They must have a strong frame and plenty of room for the vital organs, for an animal with a weak constitution cannot hold up through the feeding season.

A wide head and muzzle usually indicates good feeding qualities. Short legs, heavy hind quarters and arched ribs are essential in the feeding animal.

The skin should be reasonably thick, soft and covered by a heavy coat of hair.

The animal should have a straight back and low-set appearance, due to the depth of the body and short legs.

DETERMINING SIZE OF FLOCK

Much of Equipment Necessary for Small Number of Sheep Will Serve for Larger Number.

During the past, the prices of wool and mutton have had a powerful influence upon the size of the farm sheep flocks. There has always been a tendency for most farmers to dispose of their flocks when prices become low and to enter into the business again when the prices become high. Where pure-bred sheep are kept the size of the flocks are, as a general rule, much smaller.

The work of caring for the flock should be considered in determining the size. Certain chores must be done, and many of these would take little more time with 50 than with 15 or 25 head. Much of the equipment needed for a smaller flock will serve for a larger one. A ram will be necessary for a dozen ewes, while as a matter of fact a mature one could be bred to 50 ewes fully as well.

As a general rule, under mixed farming conditions, one sheep to three or five acres is considered advisable. The question should not merely be, "How many sheep can you keep?" but "How many can you keep healthy?" A small healthy flock is much preferable to a larger one that is diseased.

Training Young Horses.

When training young horses, it is important to teach them one thing at a time and teach that thoroughly before beginning something else. Nothing should be more gradual than the development of the power of a draft horse or the speed of a trotter.

The Game Is Not for Man Alone.

The intelligence that appears to pervade the organic world and that reaches its conscious expression in the brain of man is just as manifest in all the forms of animals and plants that are inimical to him—in all his natural enemies—venomous snakes and beasts of prey, and insect pests—as in anything else. Nature is as wise and solicitous for rats and mice as for men. In fact, she has endowed many of the lower creatures with physical powers that she has denied him. Evidently man is only one of the cards in her pack, doubtless the highest one, but the game is not played for him alone.—John Burroughs, in North American Review.

China's national hymn is said to be so long that it requires about half a day to sing it.

Peculiar Aversions.

Robert Boyle, the philosopher, could never overcome his aversion to the sound of water splashing from a pipe, and he has put on record the case of one of his servants, who could never bear hearing a knife being sharpened or a sheet of brown paper torn without bleeding at the gums.

How to "Break In" Book.

The proper way to "break in" a book is to lay it on its back on a table, and then open but a few leaves at a time, alternately at the front and at the back, until you reach the middle of the volume. Some readers have the bad habit of keeping their place by opening the book until the covers meet, and then laying it down, still open. Limp leather bound volumes will stand such treatment, but those bound in boards will not. Almost as bad is the trick of keeping your place by putting between the leaves some bulky object.
